

CASE STUDY

Client     Lighthouse - The Construction Charity
Service    Event Management - Christmas Lunch

ABOUT

Lighthouse Construction Charity reached out to us to manage their prestigious annual Christmas Lunch in London, a key fundraising event that attracts nearly 1,000 attendees.

As their flagship event of the year, they enlisted our expertise to handle various aspects of event management, including project coordination, creating an event "bible", managing all audio-visual requirements, securing high-profile celebrity speakers, and introducing fresh ideas to enhance the overall experience and increase fundraising.

Our role was to bring efficiency improvements, increase fundraising amount, while ensuring every detail was executed seamlessly.

Following this event, that this case study refers to, they have instructed us to organise their 2025 Christmas Lunch too.

OVERVIEW

Just under 1000 guests gathered at the drinks reception, excited for an afternoon of top-tier entertainment. Hosted by rugby commentator David Flatman ("Flats") and journalist Ellie Costello, the event kicked off with sporting legends John Barnes, Mike Tindall, and Savannah Marshall, all of which we secured for the client, along with Auctioneer Addison Gelpey.

Audio visual was running in the background seamlessly, and constantly. From ensuring enough microphones were on stage, adverts were displaying, to stings and music playing.

The highlight of the afternoon came when John Barnes performed his iconic 'World in Motion' rap, thrilling the audience who joined in for the finale, before the professional singer kicked off the evening.

Throughout the event, guests enjoyed a three-course meal and endless beverages, all while receiving live updates on the record-breaking funds being raised, creating a truly memorable afternoon.
